Road improvements to widen Glenfield Road, Glenfield

This project is part of the NSW Government’s $246 million Pinch Point Program, which aims to reduce traffic delays, manage congestion and maintain travel times on Sydney’s major roads particularly during weekday peak periods.

Thank you for your feedback
In September and October 2014, Roads and Maritime Services invited feedback from the community, on a proposal to widen Glenfield Road from Campbelltown Road to Brampton Avenue, Glenfield.

We thank everyone who took the time to review the proposal and provide feedback. We have reviewed your feedback and responded to all of the issues raised in a consultation outcomes report. A copy of the community consultation report can be requested by phoning 1800 332 660, emailing enquiries_nsw@downermouchel.com or visiting www.rms.nsw.gov.au/projects.

On the basis of community and stakeholder feedback, no changes to the proposal are required and we are now completing detailed design and an environmental impact assessment.

Project details
The work is shown in the diagram on the reverse side of this update and includes:
- Widening Glenfield Road in both directions between Campbelltown Road and 80 metres west of Brampton Avenue
- Extending the existing right turn bay from Campbelltown Road into Glenfield Road by 140 metres
- Providing a left turn lane from Glenfield Road onto Campbelltown Road
- Providing shared pedestrian/cycle paths on both sides of Glenfield Road
- Installing pedestrian crossings at the intersection.

Pedestrian crossings
The proposal we consulted on in September 2014 did not show the pedestrian crossings at the intersection of Campbelltown Road and Glenfield Road highlighted on the map. These facilities, as highlighted over the page, will be delivered as part of this project.

Starting work
Construction work on the intersection improvements is expected to start mid-2015.

Work will generally be carried out during the day, however to ensure the safety of road users and workers there will be times when we need to do night work. Residents will be notified before the start of any work.
