BUILDING OUR FUTURE

November 2016

Night work on the Great Western Highway from Sunday 20 November 2016

The Australian and NSW governments are funding this work as part of the $70 million upgrade of Gipps Street and Kent Road (the Werrington Arterial Road). This project is part of the $3.6 billion Western Sydney Infrastructure Plan.

Roads and Maritime Services is upgrading the Gipps Street intersection at the Great Western Highway. The upgrade includes work on the existing traffic signals.

To reduce the impact on motorists, the work to upgrade the traffic signals will take place at night. Work will begin on Sunday 20 November and take four shifts to complete.

Work will be carried out from 7pm to 6am, weather permitting.

The attached map helps to better explain the location of the work.

How will the work affect you?

There will be some noise associated with the work, but every effort will be made to minimise the impact on residents.

Traffic changes

There will temporary lane closures in place during each shift but at least one lane will remain open at all times in each direction during the work.

Electronic message signs will be in place to notify road users of the changes in traffic conditions.

Please keep to speed limits and follow the direction of traffic controllers and signs. For the latest traffic updates, you can call 132 701, visit livetraffic.com or download the Live Traffic NSW App.

Western Sydney Infrastructure Plan

The Australian and NSW governments are providing $70 million to build the Werrington Arterial Road as part of the Western Sydney Infrastructure Plan, a $3.6 billion, 10 year road investment program for western Sydney. The Plan will deliver major road infrastructure upgrades to support an integrated transport solution for the region and capitalise on the economic benefits from developing a western Sydney airport at Badgerys Creek.
