PLANNING STARTS ON TREWILGA CURVES REALIGNMENT

Roads and Maritime Services (RMS) is moving forward with planning activities for the future widening and realignment of the Newell Highway at Trewilga.

The Member for Dubbo Troy Grant said RMS has provided $500,000 this year to start the development of a project to realign about six kilometres of the Newell Highway.

“RMS will prepare a design for the future widening and realignment of the highway.

“The proposed project would remove tight curves, improve the sight distance and provide wider shoulders on the highway for the six kilometres north of Hallinans Creek.

“RMS is planning to start consulting with residents of Trewilga and other stakeholders in late April about the development of the project,” Mr Grant said.
