

Heathcote Road bridge over Woronora River – overnight delays

Roads and Maritime Services | February 2019

Roads and Maritime Services will be carrying out investigation work for the potential widening of the Heathcote Road narrow bridge over Woronora River. The widening aims to improve safety and ease congestion along Heathcote Road.

The work will require that we stop traffic in both directions on Heathcote Road for short periods on 23 February and 24 February to allow full investigation of the bridge and to ensure the safety of workers.

Traffic will be temporarily held near the intersections of Heathcote Road and New Illawarra Road, Lucas Heights, and Heathcote Road and Princes Highway, Engadine.

The stoppages will take place for up to 10 minutes at a time over a three hour period, between 10pm and 4am.

Work schedule

The work will be carried out over two nights, on the weekend of 23 February and 24 February 2019, weather permitting, with traffic holds being in effect between 10pm and 4am (early Sunday and Monday mornings).

If required due to bad weather, we will complete the work on the following weekend, Saturday and Sunday 2 and 3 March, between 10pm and 4am.

Optional alternative route

Motorists intending to travel along this section of Heathcote Road during these hours should allow extra time to complete their journeys. People intending to make non essential trips may wish to consider rescheduling their travel.

Road users who want to avoid delays should consider using an alternative route.
