

Project update

Pacific Highway and Wyong Road intersection upgrade, Tuggerah

April 2017

The NSW Government is building this $84 million upgrade to improve traffic flow and safety at the intersection.

The upgrade involves replacing the existing roundabout with traffic lights and building an additional bridge on Wyong Road for eastbound traffic.

Major construction work started in January 2016 and is expected to be completed by early 2019, weather permitting.

Construction update

Despite some delays due to wet weather, work is progressing well and the following key activities have been completed in the past three months:

- road work at east and west ends of new bridge
- new bridge deck (surface) built and safety screens installed
- asphalt laid in the intersection
- 50 metres of noise wall constructed on the south east corner of the intersection
- fencing and lighting completed on the underpass pedestrian path.

Night work

Night work has been extended during April due to wet weather delays. This work includes milling, asphaltting and line marking work as well as installing some traffic barriers. Night work is expected to be complete in the first week of May, weather permitting. When night work is complete, traffic will switch to the new bridge lanes. The work zone will then move to the existing bridge on the southern side of Wyong Road. This will involve piling for the retaining wall, which will take place during standard daytime work hours.

Opening of new bridge

In the coming weeks, the new bridge will open and all traffic will switch on to the new lanes to allow construction work to start on the existing bridge. The new shared footpath across the bridge from Tuggerah Station to Bryant Drive will also open to pedestrians and cyclists.

In the coming months work will include piling and concreting as part of the construction of a retaining wall on the southern side of Wyong Road. Road work will take place in the centre of Wyong Road west of the intersection and drainage work will take place in the centre of the Pacific Highway towards Anzac Road. We have included a map to show where the work is happening.
